

New School New Life

Writer Jerry

A new school term begins and with that our school is suddenly injected with fresh blood. As we say goodbye to those who graduated we welcome new students who are filled with an excitement to learn. To help the freshmen become adjusted to their new life, I have made a helpful guide to assist you in your journey.

How to use our card?

Our university card has a lot of functions. Did you know that we can use it to buy food in the canteen, personal items in the school store, at the library as a book rental card, and it can also help us confirm our identity. The easiest way to get money on your card is by setting up a transfer account with your bank card to the school card. Once you have money on your card, feel free to use it whenever the moment is right.

How to use the library?

Do you like to read? If so, all the students should go to the electronic reading room to learn how to use the library. After you feel you know how to use the library, you can take an exam. If you score 80/100, you will pass the exam and the library card can now be activated for use.

Learning method in University

As we all know, university learning depends on ourselves. We no longer have our parents breathing down our backs. It is up to ourselves to work hard as we prepare for the real life after school. Some personal advice would be to use the library frequently as a quiet place to study.

Learning content in University

Learning content for college students has a certain professional direction. We must be very good at our major studies. But professional knowledge is not enough. In order to expand our knowledge, we'd better take relevant elective courses according to our interests. Specialized courses and elective courses are complementary to each other.

The most important thing at University

Innovation can promote the development of a successful society. We must constantly be working towards a better future, we must be creative and explore all possibilities. We should leave our universities better than how we entered. Don't let others quiet your innovative spirit, be yourself and follow your passions.

University extracurricular activities

University life is not as boring as the one in high school. There are numerous activities for us to get involved in. For the most part, it is not that students don't want to attend these events, but rather, many find they have no confidence in themselves. Pull out your courage, don't doubt yourself! When we join in the club activities, we take advantages of all the experience we gain from doing so, unlike the experience you gain from sitting in front of a computer. By joining clubs we can enhance our abilities in many areas. I would like to recommend a few good clubs: English magazine club, English movie club, etc.

Interest in the university

It is said that your life will be really boring if you don't have a hobby. I hope the students can choose interests reasonably according to your own circumstances and abilities. You can choose sports, music, computer, speaking engagements and so on. I want to remind the students that no matter what you choose, you should stick to it .

In the end, I wish all our students gain a meaningful college life, making it as memorable as possible through your own efforts.
